

VICTIM RIGHTS, §915.3§915.3, VICTIM RIGHTS915.3Immunity — citizen intervention. Any person who, in good faith and without remuneration, renders reasonable aid or assistance to another against whom a crime is being committed or, if rendered at the scene of the crime, to another against whom a crime has been committed, is not liable for any civil damages for acts or omissions resulting from the aid or assistance, and is eligible to file a claim for reimbursement as a victim under this chapter.98 Acts, ch 1090, §3, 84See also §613.17 VICTIM RIGHTS, §915.3§915.3, VICTIM RIGHTS